

The Nacul Protocol

Nacul: (noun) from Nature and Culture; a condition in which Nature and Culture are mutually beneficial; the concept and science of building and living in harmony with nature.

This is to certify that I _____(Print Your Name) will strive toward becoming a responsible planetary citizen and, therefore, try to live according to the following principles:

1. Be kind and loving to other members of the human species, as well as other living creatures and plants. Never act in an aggressive, self-righteous manner, instead, be always understanding.
2. Wear natural clothes, have an environmentally conscious diet and strive to create an ecological house and sustainable community.
3. Be socially responsible and politically active in promoting policies that will most benefit all of humanity and help achieve world peace.
4. Understand and be respectful of all religions, beliefs and customs, but learn to develop my own method of dealing with ultimate concerns. Develop my own personal spirituality.
5. Try to keep the four aspects of my life – personal, real, ideal and spiritual – balanced and set a positive example for others to follow.
6. Develop an all-embracing amnesty. "I forgive those who have offended me and apologize to those whom I have offended."
